Distributor and Agent Partners,

Due to significant inflationary pressure on commodities, transportation, metals and electrical components. Current, powered by GE is announcing a 6% price increase on select LED product families and up to 10% on select traditional lighting products.

Pricing for LED product families will be updated on October 4th. Pricing for traditional lighting will be updated on November 1st. Please refer any questions you may have regarding these changes to your local GE Sales Representative.

In a time of global uncertainty, Current is also analyzing the impact of future cost changes that could require additional price actions. We will announce any future actions as they are required.

Sincerely,

Deron Miller
Chief Revenue Officer
