

YOU'RE INVITED

Circadian Lighting for health & wellness—a conversation with subject matter experts.

DON'T MISS THIS FREE LIVE TALK—February 10, 1-2pm EST

Join TheLightingFactory for a roundtable discussion on Circadian Lighting with subject matter experts and actively participate with a live audience on ClubHouse.

Seasoned lighting professionals from across the industry will moderate the talk and breakdown key concepts for End-users and Design partners alike.

SUBJECT MATTER EXPERTS

DR SHELLEY JAMES

Consultant in light and health, currently working on a number of projects with clients in the elder care sector.

ROBERT SOLER

Former subject matter expert for NASA, current advisor to the WELL Building Institute, and co-founder of BIOS Lighting.

SARAH MORGAN

Industrial Designer with a Masters Thesis in Lighting and Biomimicry, founder of Nano-Lit Technologies.

MODERATORS

AMER MALEH

Senior executive in the lighting industry with expertise in design, manufacturing, sales, supply chain, and distribution. Amer is currently the VP of Sales and marketing for DeltaLight US. Previously he was the global director of sourcing and supply chain at WeWork.

GIULIO PEDOTA

Partner at Schuler Shook with over 35 years' experience in lighting design. He is committed to a collaborative, creative, and intuitive design approach that integrates aesthetics, sustainable strategies, modern technologies, and specific attention to human wellness.

MEGAN CARROLL

President of the IESNYC with over 35 years industry experience in marketing & sales roles of both conventional products (filament & discharge lamps) to disruptive technology start-up companies. She is past conference chair of the IES Annual Conference, former Illumination Awards & Lumen Awards Chairwoman, & a recipient of the IES' Distinguished Service Award.

STAR DAVIS

Creative and analytical designer focused on carbon-cutting, intelligent, innovative solutions for the constructed environment. She is currently VP of Innovation and Product at Focal Point, formerly Global Head of Lighting for WeWork and Consultant at Arup NY.

PETER AUGUSTA

VP of Sales at Casambi Technologies North America with 20 years of experience in architectural lighting. He has unique blended background in lighting, software, and modern technologies with a passion for bringing these disciplines together.